President Roll G. Gallagher, last night charged that fears about Negro integration in our schools are based on a misperception of the Negro people.

Another fictitious argument, Dr. Gallagher said, is the suggestion that the Negroes have not contributed their fair share to the economy of our country, and that they have never been welcomed, thereby making significant contributions in the form of the arts and in politics and social life.

Dr. Gallagher reiterated his position that segregation housing is the root of the racial problem in the United States.

"None of the basic issues of American race relations," he alleged, "can be satisfactorily settled without a profound alteration in the systems of community acceptability in housing."

"Even if community attitudes are altered in the political and educational matters," he continued, "the integrated church can be maintained in a segregated society only through employing obviously artificial methods."

"The better it will be not only for the classrooms, but also for the social and cultural environment, not to imitate natural ability and freedom," he said."

BHE Chairman Praises Proposed Capital Budget

By Steve Ludwig

Gustave C. Rosenberg, Chairman of the Board of Higher Education (BHE), declared his belief in favor of the New York City Planning Commission's recommended allocation for the municipal colleges this week.

Mr. Rosenberg spoke Tuesday morning at the public hearing in City Hall on the proposed 1958 capital budget. The capital budget, a list of public works contemplated by the City in the coming year, is to be financed by bond issues. The Commission recommended an allocation of $9,480,700 for the Uptown Center of the College.

The largest single recommended allocation for the College was $55,000 for the rehabilitation of the new Technology Building. Construction on the new building is to begin late this spring. The building will be located on the site now occupied by the Richard R. Bowker Library and the Drill Hall.

Dear Editor:

For want of an "intellectual" mystery story audience, at least one mystery novelist has not been presented to the public. Mr. Joseph Wohlberg, Registrar's Assistant, feels that the public is ready for a higher intellectual plane than that of the Mickey Spillane type of story.

During the day, Mr. Wohlberg works in the Registrar's office. But after hours, he crusades for which he is presently engaged is an occasional Humanities lecture. The only detective work in which he is presently engaged is that of unearthing the mystery of classical texts. He translates Latin poetry into English. A number of his efforts in this line have been published in collected works of classical poetry. But "until the public assumes a higher standard of mystery fiction," Mr. Wohlberg said, "my publishing ventures will remain in this field."

Meet The College's Fall Coaches

This is the fourth in a series of articles profiling the Fall coaches. Today — wrestling mentor Sapora. In the coming articles we will profile the basketball and soccer coaches.

By NORM WEINER

To most people wrestling is simply a sport, to others it is merely a farce, but to Coach Joe Sapora it has meant a great deal more.

"Wrestling has been more than just a sport to me," remarked Professor Sapora, "for I use of it I have become associated with many wonderful stars and students whom I now call friends."

Born in Pennsylvania, the coach entered into organized wrestling competition until he entered Pennsylvania where he captained his team to the state championship. He also coached Junior Varsity football here at the College during World War II.

Some of the country's finest wrestlers first grappled under Dr. Sapora. Among these were Henry Wittenberg, 1948 Olympic Champion in the 191-pound division, and Jerry Steinberg, who was undefeated in three years of varsity competition.

Coach Joe Sapora
"More Than a Sport"

University of Illinois. There he distinguished himself by being three time National Champion in the 118-pound class. He also played shortstop for University's varsity baseball.

Started With History

Originally a history major, the coach did not decide to teach physical education until he entered graduate school at New York University.

Sapora's ability in the sports field extends beyond wrestling for he was an outstanding basketball player at Renovo High School in Pennsylvania where he captained his team to the state championship. He also coached Junior Varsity football here at the College during World War II.

Harriers Open Season Tomorrow

Tomorrow at Van Cortlandt Park the College's Cross Country team will begin its quest for a second straight undefeated season. In addition to Brooklyn, Queens, and Hunter Colleges, the Beavers will have to cope with an unexpected opponent—Asian Kill. "The varsity squad," as deGirolamo describes it, "is further along now than at this point last season. This year's squad will be hard pressed to present a full squad. Last week five regulars were out with Asian flu, and as of today, two players are still unable to compete. The top man for the Brooklynites is expected to be Dave Shapiro, competing in his first season. At the Hunter meet, he led all other BU harriers. Their number 2 man is Bob Blumenthal. Frank Tavares rounds out their top three. Hunter promises to give the Lavender the most trouble. Joe Vangel, perhaps the top runner of the municipal colleges, finished first in the meet with Brooklyn last week."

Four lettermen have returned, led by the Schiben Brothers, John and George. The former is also acting captain. A new competitor, Dick Low, and soph Paul Roth round out the nucleus.

Coach Harry DeGirolamo
"Father's Dough"

Harry deGirolamo does not expect Ransy to run at all. The other two thirds of the trio that broke thirty minutes in a practice meet against Columbia, the Captains Ralph Taylor and Bob Cleary, will be available.
